

NOAH CONNER.

MARCH 5, 1840.

Read, and laid upon the table.

Mr. C. MORRIS, from the Committee on Invalid Pensions, submitted the following

REPORT :

The Committee on Invalid Pensions, to whom was referred the petition of Noah Conner, report :

That the petitioner states he served in the army of the United States five years, which term ended August 17, A. D. 1823, and was honorably discharged. That, in consequence of the hardships to which he was exposed, his health was permanently injured. That in the summer of 1823, while on furlough, on his way from Fort Armstrong to his home in Pittston, he was taken sick at Fairfield, in Green county, Ohio, with fever; in consequence of which sickness he incurred an expense of one hundred and fifty-four dollars. That, after recovering from this sickness, he left Fairfield, and reached Perkins township, on Lake Erie, when he was again taken sick, and confined from the latter part of September, 1823, to the first part of April, 1824. That, in consequence of sickness, he spent five hundred dollars in reaching home, the whole amount of his wages in the service; and that he has been ever since in a feeble state of health, so as to be unable to attend to ordinary labor, and therefore prays that a pension may be allowed him.

This statement of facts is sworn to by the petitioner, and there are, accompanying the papers, the certificates of two physicians as to the general debilitated state of the petitioner's health, without stating any particular cause.

The committee deem it their duty to make an unfavorable report.

Blair & Rives, printers.

INOA CONNER.

MARCH 5, 1840.

Read, and laid upon the table.

Mr. C. Morris, from the Committee on Invalid Pensions, submitted the following

REPORT:

The Committee on Invalid Pensions, to whom was referred the petition of Noah Conner, report:

That the petitioner states he served in the army of the United States five years, which term ended August 17, A. D. 1823, and was honorably discharged. That in consequence of the hardships to which he was exposed, his health was permanently injured. That in the summer of 1823, while on march, on his way from Fort Armstrong to his home in Pinetown, he was taken sick at Fairfield, in Green county, Ohio, with fever; in consequence of which sickness he incurred an expense of one hundred and fifty-four dollars. That after recovering from his sickness, he left Fairfield, and reached Perkins township, on Lake Erie, when he was again taken sick, and confined from the latter part of September, 1823, to the first part of April, 1824. That in consequence of sickness, he spent five hundred dollars in reaching home, the whole amount of his wages in the service; and that he has been ever since in a feeble state of health, so as to be unable to attend to ordinary labor, and therefore prays that a pension may be allowed him.

This statement of facts is sworn to by the petitioner, and there are accompanying the papers the certificates of two physicians as to the general debilitated state of the petitioner's health, without stating any particular cause.

The committee deem it their duty to make an unfavorable report.

[Baird & Rives, printers.]